WOODMARQUE'S RESTORATION APPROACH

Why pull it down when we can restore it?

Renovation & Restoration work for old, period or historical buildings is a passion of Woodmarque and they believe, 'why pull it down when we can restore it' Finding the correct matching materials, the craftsmen with integrity and an attention to detail, the correct period and accessories are just part of the job. The traditional knowledge and experience completes the work.

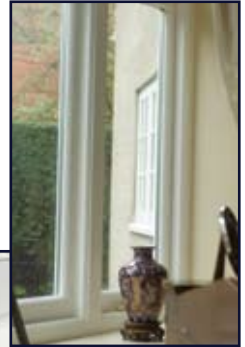

Woodmarque have the knowledge and experience. They will be there at the beginning photographing what has been left of the original woodwork, fixtures and fittings before any 'gutting' or rebuilding begins.

Woodmarque's expertise lies in the fact they can call on an extensive reference to 17th, 18th and 19th century architectural heritage.
